

Job Title:	Architectural CAD Drafter & Designer
Type of Position:	Hourly – Part Time OR Full Time Considered
Proposed Compensation:	Hourly Pay $12 to $25/hr depending on skill level. Weekly Pay to be released by the end of the week with a 1 week lag.

Forward thinking design build firm with specialties in residential and commercial construction seeks experienced architectural drafter / CAD technician with excellent technical skills and minimum of 3 years of experience. We are a dynamic practice with a casual, yet professional work ethic. Being a young design-build firm, we offer experience in both the design and construction side with room to grow.

Requirements: Candidate must have or working towards a degree in Interior Design, Architecture, Engineering or other related field of study. Proficiency in producing construction documents per scope for our projects. Projects require excellent CAD ability and knowledge of plan layout. Candidates must have experience generating documents from design requirements, sketches and meetings through complete construction documents and coordination with subcontractors and sub consultants. They must also have a working knowledge of common office procedures, construction practices and experience working with the Florida Building Code. Candidates must also have the ability to survey existing structures and work with property survey drawings. Proficiency and experience in utilizing Microsoft Excel in developing spreadsheets to assist with different design calculations will be required for this position.

Strongly Considered: A working knowledge of 3D modeling and processing of renderings is strongly encouraged for this position. Utilizing Autodesk’s Revit and/or Trimble Sketchup to generate models and renderings. Ability to process the output renders by utilizing Adobe’s Photoshop and Illustrator is a skill set that is also desired.

Other Abilities: Candidates that have background in MEP and Structural detail design, construction management, and other construction or design related skill set are encouraged to apply.

Those interested please send cover letter and resume to Joe@NOHMIS.com

